REVOLUTIONARY TELEPRESENCE EXPERIENCE TO THE EXECUTIVE DESKTOP

The executive’s ability to instantly connect with their extended team, colleagues, customers and partners is invaluable to accelerating decisions, increasing efficiency and being more productive. With absolute quality telepresence, it is easy to see all corners of the business without leaving the office. The TANDBERG EX90 is the revolutionary personal telepresence system that brings the instant, lifelike meeting experience of telepresence directly to the executive desk.

TANDBERG EX90: TRANSFORMING HOW BUSINESS IS DONE

The TANDBERG EX90 is transforming the way the connected executive gets business done, with absolute quality video, natural collaboration and intuitive control. The sleek modern design, combined with unparalleled usability, make the EX90 an essential tool for the executive desk.

- Absolute Quality — For executive-level discussions, there is no room for miscommunication. Keeping everyone moving in the same direction cannot be left to chance, and that means communicating in the best possible quality. See people clearly in full HD video on the large 24" screen, and hear them with superior audio on two integrated speakers and a subwoofer. With the PrecisionHD camera, every participant can experience absolute quality 1080p face-to-face communication without leaving the desk.
- Natural Collaboration — Face-to-face communication is one facet of collaboration, but there is more to it than video and audio. Sharing information must be easy, intuitive and seamless. The EX90 has unprecedented content collaboration with full HD/WUXGA sharing capability that ensures that details are clear to everyone. And, with a quick flip of the PrecisionHD camera, it’s easy to instantly share documents and objects on the desktop. Collaborate seamlessly and move fluidly between various sources for engaging and productive discussions.
- So Simple — Superior technology is only superior if it is used. The TANDBERG inTouch provides the same ease of use as the T3 and T1 interface, allowing calls to be placed and meetings to be managed with the glide of the finger. Search directories, initiate calls and manage every aspect of the EX90 telepresence experience with the intuitive touch screen.

EXPLORE NEW POSSIBILITIES IN COLLABORATION

The TANDBERG EX90 goes beyond the concept of personal telepresence — it is a total collaboration device. The question is not a matter of what the EX90 can do, but what do you want to do?

For the executive, the EX90 enables immediate presence with customers, partners, colleagues and employees. For the designer, analyst, developer or anyone that needs to share data, documents or multimedia files, the EX90 is the personal telepresence solution that delivers unprecedented real-time, desktop collaboration. With seamless interaction of video and content at the touch of a finger, conducting meetings is an effortless task.

For a truly customized collaboration experience, an additional display, camera and multimedia devices can be added to the EX90, creating a tool tailored to the specific needs of the user.

No matter what your role, the EX90 will instantly become an integral part of the work flow, helping make decisions even faster, information even more accessible and users even more efficient. Data and imagery can be shared instantly, right from where the work is getting done. And because it is telepresence quality, collaboration is rich and robust, so users are able to accomplish far more.

The TANDBERG EX90 is not just the most versatile, feature-rich 1080p personal telepresence system available, it is the only one to offer a complete collaboration solution. Visit www.tandberg.com to learn more about the EX90, and see how it can not only transform your desktop, but transform the way you do business.
